SOUTH WASHINGTON.

Election of Officers.—The annual election of officers of the South Washington Sunday-School Union was held in the lecture-room of Westminstor Prosbyterian Church last evening. The attendance was musually large. The election resulted as follows: President, Charles Pearson; vice-president, Winfield Olive; secretary, Daniel Smithson; treasurer, F. Depue.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN FAUNCE.—Captain

president, winneld Olive; secretary, Daniel Smithson; treasurer, F. Depue.

Drath of Captain Faunce.—Captain Jacob Faunce, one of the best known fishermen of the Potomac, was taken suddenly ill as Quantice last Sunday and died a short while afterward. His body was brought to the Baltimore & Potomac depot pesterday and removed to his late residence on F, between Minch and Tenth streets, southwest. Captain Faunce, when be left the city a few days, ago, was enjoying, apparently, the best health. His sudden damise has cast a dark shadow among his friends, of whom he had many. He leaves a loving wife and large family to mourn his untimely loss.

Refrinkers of Dr. Hacon.—Dr. R. A. Bacon, one of the oldest and most prominent druggists in South Washington, has transferred his business, corner of Fonrand-a-half and F streets, to Mr. W. L. Sears, a popular druggist of the northwest portion of the city.

Personal.—Miss Frank Gardner, of PERSONAL.—Miss Frank Gardner, of Troy, N. V., is visiting Mrs. S. S. Baker, of No. 639 F street southwest.

This evening the Y. M. C. A. Literary Society and the Jefferson Club will meet in the association parlors on New York avenue, to debate upon the Civil-Service law and its success. This being a challenge debate it promises to be of interest to all who enjoy intellectual contests of this nature. The public are invited.

At a meeting of the Bible Society last evening complaint was made that the contributions for the maintenance of the good work bad decreased and did not quite cover expenses. It was shown that the city had been thoroughly chavassed and there had been a systematic distribution of Bibles. A committee, consisting of Mr. William Ballentyne and Commodore Easby, was appointed to confer with the Georgetown Bible Society to arrange for a system of exploration and distribution in West Washington.

The Board of Supervising Inspectors of Steam Vessels at their meeting yesterday adopted a rule of importance to steamboat owners. The rule provides that where steamers are furnished with approved life-aving mattresses, such mattre-ses may be issued in lieu of life-preservers in proportion to one person for a single mattress, and two persons for a double mattress, thus saving steamboat owners the expense of purebasing life-preservers in proportion as their steamers are fitted out with life-saving mattresses.

THE INAUGURATION.

Progress of the Committees' Work.
At the meeting of the General Committee last night Treasurer Glover reported that the receipts to date were $15,505, and Mr. Galt reported that the expenditures

Mr. Galt reported that the expenditures amounted to $72.08. Liabilities to the amount of $14.682 have been incurred, and it is expected that the expenses will reach $25,000. It was stated that the Pension building will be ready for decorating by the 220 of February. Calonel Borret stated that there was every reason to believe that General McClellan would not as marshal on the 4th of March. It was also stated that it would be impossible to use the Pension building for the Washington Monument for delicatory ceremonics.

At the meeting of the Public Comfort Committee last night a report as to quarters for troops and visitors was made. It shows that 1,027 rooms have been registered, with an aggregate capacity of 7,253 persons, 33 balls capable of accommodating 5,757, and five horels accommodating 470 pursons, a total of 13,447 visitors in all. There are also nine yacant houses which can be furnished with cots and will accommodate 2,700 persons, and that there are nine dishing rooms willing to furnish meaks at 10,50 and 75 cents seek for 7,050 persons. The number sons, and that there are time dining-rooms willing to furnish meals at 40, 50 and 75 cents each for 7,050 persons. The number of regiments, clubs and private parties that have secured quarters through the committee is 11,508.

Notes. Mr. A. Watson has sent a letter to the Committee on Public Comfort, suggesting that arrangements for an abundant supply of drinking water for visitors be made.

The Davis Democratic Marching Club, of Pledmont, W. Va., will have two men, each nearly seven feet in height, to carry their colors, and the Cleveland Pioneers, of New York city, will be on hand 150 strong.

W. B. Meses & Son offer to provide, fee of charge, all looking-glasses for the reception rooms at the ball.

Mr. Wash B. Williams has offered to furnish one of the reception rooms at the ball in the handsomest manner over seen in this city. This offer will be accepted.

Eight dollars each for the first five ball

Eight dollars each for the first five ball tickets was offered to-day. Mr. P. B. McGuire, who is called "the ticket fiend," is at home sick. Company B, Sixteenth Regiment Onto National Guards (Sandusky), uniformed like the Seventh Regiment of New York, have applied for a place in line. They will quarter in the sleeping-ear in which they came. Only five of the company are Democratic.

From the offers to buy tickets in bulk it would seem as if somebody intended to speculate in them.

The tickets to the ball only admit one person—not a gentleman and lady. This is not generally understood.

The following contributions have been received:
Delton & Sirickiand, $25; R. C. Hewitt, $100;
E. F. Brooks, $20; General H. G. Wright, $20;
W. O. Berry, $25; William R. Elley, $25;

EAST WASHINGTON.

ONE OF Et MARDI'S MEN,—A tall, dark-complexioned man, about 38 or 40 years old, entered Mr. Charles F. Shelton's restaurant, on Eighth street, near I, last night. He seemed to be somewhat excited and acted like a crank,
"Are you the proprietor?" he asked Mr.

Shelton.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then I want to take yes into my confidence. I am an Englishman and have been fighting El Mahdi's forces under General Stewart. I was in that great battle the other day at Abe-kles. The dispatches have not told half the story. I—I—was the only man who escaped. The rebels killed General Stewart and all his men but me."

"You made a quick trip from the Soudan to Washington," suggested Mr. Shelton.
"Oh, yes. I got a pair of wings, and, attaching them to my arms, flow over here." This story knocked Mr. Shelton almost crazy, and he sent out after a policeman to arrest the crank, but the latter was a little too shy, and skipped out and made his escape."

HIGHWAY RORDERY.—Albert Wilson, a colored laborer, who has been working in lower Maryland for some time past, while on his way here last night, was attacked by two masked men on the other side of the District line and robbed of $53. Wilson's head was badly out and be was otherwise roughly handled by his assailants.

A SUGGESTION.—It is suggested by East Washingtonians that the Herdies would be better patronized than they are if they would run on better time. To a person waiting for one of these vehicles, they appear to run about a half-up hour awart.

would run on botter lime. To a person waiting for one of these vehicles, they appear to run about a half an hour apart.

A HOUSE-WARMING.—Union Lodge, No. 11, I.O. O. F., gave a house-warming at their new quarters, Washington Hall, Uspitol Hill, last evening. The visitors were entertained in the early part of the evening by a cornet solo by Mr. Richards, accompanied on the plane by Mrs. M. E. Richards; banjo duets, by Mesars, Johnson and Crewn; solo, by W. D. McFariand. An excellent address by Past Grand Master F. A. Stier was a prominent feature of the entertainment. The grand master, M. D. Monitis, being present, made a few walltimed and happy remarks. The evening's entertainment closed with a dance, in which the young and oid joined. The order of Odd-Fellows possesses a fine dancer in the person of their grand master and he took an active part in the dancing.

Miss Turner's German at Willard's.

Miss Lillie Turner, daughter of Congressimun Oscat Turner, of Kentucky, gave a beautiful german last night at Willard's to the Mislicton Social Club. There were twenty-four couples, and the chaperons were Mrs. Oscar Turner, Mrs. John Shorman, Mrs. John G. Carlisle, Mrs. Gootloe, Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. Allnutt.

Among the young ladles present were Miss Fannic Maize, of Kentucky, now the guest of Miss Turner, Mrs. Annie Randall, daughter of Hon S. J. Randall; Miss Lillie Duncan, Miss Della Johnson, Miss Minnie Morgan, Miss Ida Morgan, Miss Minnie Morgan, Miss Ida Morgan, Miss Dodd, Miss Gertrude Owen and Miss Haydeu. The german was led by Miss Turner and Licutonant Patterson, of Philadelphia. The last figure of the evening was dauced under a bit of mislictoe that was presented to Mrs. Samuel J. Randall on her recent trip to the South in company with her husband.

The favors distributed were hand-painted, and of uncommon heatity of design. A fine supper was served by Mr. Staples, proprietor of Willard's, in the ladies' ordinaire. The table was charmingly ornamented and the room was appropriately decorated. Congressman Turner and family baye lived at Willard's ever since they have been in Washington, and as this is their last winter here Mr. Staples was particularly desirons that Miss Turner's gorman should be a great success, which it certainly was.

An unusual Occurrence.

AN UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE.

A Member Hissed in the House. There was to-day one of the very few instances in which a Member has been hissed on the floor of the House. Some people say that it is the first instance of the kind. Mr. John D. White, of Kentucky, was the man hissed. He had been talking about the fact that his resolution against the Secretary of the Treessury and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in regard to their action about the payment of the tax on whisky did not appear in the Record to-day. In his romarks Mr. White referred to the Speaker of the House as 'a creature' of that body. Then occurred the hisses. Mr. Carlisle's forbearance toward Mr. White vas only the estimation on both sides that any disceptiful reference to him makes every man on the floor want to hiss.

And to-day they did hiss. Mr. Carlisle's forbearance toward Mr. White was only to be explained by his entire fairness in not allowing any man to be choked off or any restraint to be placed upon five speech. Out of all the matter, there grow a discussion that was desultory, but In no way interesting, except in the exchange of little personalities.

The personalities were principally be-There was to-day one of the very few in The personalities were principally between Mr. White and Mr. Blackburn, or rather the personalities of Mr. White ained at Mr. Blackburn, who was endeavoring to preserve the dignity of the House and of the Speafer. Mr. White succeeded in only one thing—be created a great deal of atmasement. Mr. Springer and others frequently called upon the Speaker to rule Mr. White out under the rules, but Mr. Carlisle did not do so, and Mr. White went on in his aimless, desultory way, only interrupted by laughter at some of his most absurd statements.

CAUGHT IN A PRINTING PRESS. A Treasury Pressman's Thrilling Experience and Narrow Escape

Branch Printing office, narrowly escaped a tragic and horrible death to-day. Mr. Thompson was oiling and cleaning one of the large presses and in sodo crept in under the machine. While at work in a cramped position under a cylinder he accidentally pused the lever with his elbow, and at once set the machinery in motion.

His position was perilous in the extreme. The revolving cylinder and wheels were in very close proximity to his body, and he was powerless to escape, and was severely cut about the face, head, neck and chost in his efforts to do so. An associate working at an adjoining press was attracted by Thompson's screams and hastened to his rescue, reversing the lever and stopping the press as promptly as possible. Mr. Thompson was extricated from his daugerous position, painfully, but not dangerously wounded, and conveyed to his home.

Colored Men Making Overtures to the Democrats.

This morning J. R. Beckley, ex-Representative Cox and a large delegation of colored men waited upon Congressman Barbour, of Virginia. They said they had here tefore acted with the Republican party, but that if the Democrats would be willing to recognize the political counlity of the colrecognize the parties requarty of the es-ored men of the South, then they would vote the Democratic ticket in the fature. Mr. Barbour replied that he had no doubt but that President Cleveland would fully recognize their rights.

Holding Easy Sessions. Holding Easy Sessions.

The members of the Swaim Court-Martial are holding easy secret sessions—easy, because they can smoke and chat and go over the testimony at leisure without being gazed upon by the world. A conclusion will be reached in the case in about one mouth if all the testimony is gone over. Two or three days ought, however, to wind up the whole business if the time is judiclously used. Everything is guess-work now conused. Everything is guess-work now concerning the verdict of the court.
